I worked with Ring today to format all of our media announcements regarding our involvement in the Neighbors portal. I posted announcements on Twitter, NextDoor and Instagram. I did not do a media announcement through email because it's really a local matter between us and our residents. I was also able to send three announcements through the Neighbors portal directly to all ring users. These announcements are regional and do not go city wide yet so I centered them around the PD, City Hall and the mills. I have attached a snapshot of one of the posts. We have no way of viewing the post after they are sent without contacting Ring.

Fun fact. Every time someone comments back, I get an email. 5 emails have come in while typing this out. Make that 6.
